

The Parent Empowerment Handbook, a resource of places for struggling teens, was created by Woodbury Reports to help parents and professionals working with children, adolescents and young adults who are floundering in life. Floundering may include anything from mild learning issues to need for intensive hospitalization for substance abuse, eating disorders, or other mental health/ behavioral issues and everything in between. This 290 page book contains helpful essays, the top 100 private, parent choice schools and programs across the country, an additional 60+ programs, the top transportation companies and the top 100 educational consultants, derived from a survey sent to parent choice professionals each year. Each of the top 100 schools and programs contains special categories including such information about who to contact for more information, a complete description including for whom the program is appropriate, whether the program takes children on psychotropic medications, etc. It also contains a description of the program, its academic program, family component and facilities. And much much more.
